

Contact: Nicole Ballengee
nicole@prbythebook.com

SUGGESTED INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

L. Austen Johnson

Author of Romancing the Holidays Collection, Burning the Bacon and True Loaf

1. You've accomplished your dream of publishing at a very young age. What advice do you have for other aspiring writers?
2. You have contemporary romance novels out in addition to a fantasy short story. Why those particular genres and do you plan to write in other genres as well?
3. In addition to your novels, you have an award-winning poetry collection out called Burning the Bacon. What drew you to poetry?
4. What do you hope readers take away from your novels and poetry?
5. As an award-winning poet, what does the rise of poetry in our society today, especially on social media platforms like Instagram, mean to you?
6. In college you were diagnosed with several conditions that are referred to as invisible illnesses (e.g. Crohns, migraines, fibromyalgia, insomnia). How does living with those illnesses affect you as a young adult and as a writer?
7. What is your advice for other young people with similar invisible illnesses?
8. As COVID continues to impact society, what has been your experience with its impact on the disabled community?
9. How and where can readers purchase your books?
10. Is there anything else you'd like to tell us about your books or your life as a writer?